GIRL SCOUTS CAMPING
Friday after school the Girl Scouts came home quite excited. In fact, they had been excited all week.

They got together provisions to cook their supper and breakfast in the woods—bread, bacon, steak, eggs, tomatoes, onions, potatoes, cheese. They put this package with their bedding and made it into a roll and shouldered this to the home of their leader, Mrs. J. B. Nickell. Mr. Nickell, Wendell Nickell and Miss Nelle Taubee joined the party and they drove out to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Nickell.

They cooked supper in the woods, played games in the moonlight. Then they spread their beds but not to sleep much. The men kept the fire going and the wakeful ones watched it glow and listened to the others snore.

Soon after five the next morning it began to rain. Quickly they rolled their beds. Some took a short hike, others cooked breakfast. They ate, cleaned camp and reached home about 7:30 a.m., tired but happy.

THE STATE SUPREME

At this time, when all the world is in an uproar and talking of and preparing for war, it is opportune that we might re-examine ourselves and perhaps re-arrange our ideas of human relations.

When the world was new and people few, human contacts were direct. Man had to deal with man. In that period might was generally resorted to to decide differences.

As people multiplied they formed themselves into groups. These groups generally occupied more or less definitely defined areas, and constitute the original idea of the modern state or country.

It was the purpose of the group, of the tribe, of the state, to protect itself not only against willful or selfish members in its body but also against any outside enemy which might threaten it or invade its territory.

Even in tribal days it was necessary for the combined counsel often to deal harshly with individual members who would ignore the rights of their fellows. In the modern state, this often is still necessary, but with the ever increasing population the relation of state with state is becoming more and more difficult.

States and nations, like individuals, have found a way to pursue a willful and selfish course. Woodrow Wilson in his League of Nations pact blazed the way which the world must eventually follow if it would save itself from destruction.

To protect itself a state or nation must have supreme authority within its own borders and over its own people but by the same token it has no business to interfere with the internal affairs of any other state or nation. When it does that it is an outlaw and should be treated as such.

At the present time civilization has no effective machinery to deal with selfish nations. Can a selfish world establish such an agency? Civilization must wake up or perish.

Opening New Store

A new store to be known as "The Racket" is now being opened in the C. C. Elam building by Norman Gullett proprietor of the IGA Store here. Wholesale feeds and flour and a line of furniture and hardware will be featured. Store will be managed by Robert Stafford, a brother-in-law to Mr. Gullett.

Miss Dorothy and Dwayne Bellamy are visiting at Morehead this week with Mr. and Mrs. Dub Bellamy.

ABOVE PARTY

The New Deal was inaugurated by a process of amalgamation; will it be perpetuated by a process of elimination? Franklin Roosevelt started with a program which pulled in Republicans like Wallace, Norris, Ickes, and the La Follettes, he continued with one which pushed out Democrats like John W. Davis and "Al" Smith, will he finish with a party which has no place for Glass, George Tydings, and Wheeler? Will he, can he, form a new party?

The question is likely to follow from the President's press conference remark about having no objection to the election of a "good liberal" running on the Republican ticket. But it would be a mistake to jump to the conclusion that Mr. Roosevelt is abandoning the new Democratic Party and launching a new national party of Roosevelt "liberals." Soon after the 1920 campaign in which Mr. Roosevelt expressed the hope that a political division along liberal and conservative lines could be established in the United States. He has gone far toward making over his own party in the direction of his own definition of liberal.

The latest public breaks with conservative Democrats carry the process a step farther. Yet they also illustrate the truth of a remark Mr. Roosevelt is reported to have made in connection with the South Carolina primary "It takes a very long time to bring the past up to the present." With "copperhead" and "carpetbagger" being revived for present political purposes, Civil War issues and prejudices may prove as effective in keeping Southerners from joining a New Deal party as from joining the Republican.

The South may not be "liberalized" until it is industrialized. And then Thomas Jefferson would probably never recognize the kind of "liberals" that develop out of Labor's rise to political power. Certainly he would disown many of the city machines without which Mr. Roosevelt could not put through his program. The "Hague" liberals in New Jersey, the Nash-Kelly "liberals" in Chicago, the Pendergast "liberals" in Kansas City—Mr. Roosevelt has to do business with all of them when candidates are chosen or legislation is considered.

He has shown his distaste for them, but politically they are more dangerous to "purge" than the southern conservatives. He will have as much trouble getting rid of them as Governor Landon did trying to "shed" the corporation moneybags and discredited Old Guard Republican senators in his 1936 campaign. And it is entirely likely that Mr. Roosevelt will use considerable discretion in selecting the "good liberal" to whom no objection will be made. He might have to go slow in building a liberal party that men backed by these city machines would still receive his support regardless of who the Republican candidate may be.

A liberal-conservative line-up must overcome a lot of local politics as well as hoary traditions. And when it comes it will be the result of tremendous social and economic changes rather than of a President's chance remark.—Christian Science Monitor.

SISTERS' REUNION

Mrs. E. B. Cottle of West Liberty, Mrs. H. C. Blankenship of Huntington, W. Va., Mrs. R. B. Collins of Chicago, Illinois, and Mrs. C. E. Hall of Jeffersontown had a happy reunion at the home of Mrs. Hall on Saturday, September 10. It was the first time these sisters had all been together since childhood days, 20 years ago. They are daughters of the late Andy and Lucy Wilder of Harlan County and are the only surviving children except Mrs. H. L. Coldiron of Jonesville, Va., who was unable to be present.

Mr. Cottle, Mr. Collins and little daughter, Mr. Hall and two children and a number of friends and neighbors were present. The sisters hope to keep in closer touch with each other in the future.

New Concrete Process

Washington.—A demonstration, in which a concrete fortress was constructed and made ready for use in less than one working day by use of a new formula known as the "vacuum concrete process" was conducted in the presence of a few military and diplomatic observers by Karl P. Billner, of New York City, inventor of the process.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Any broadcaster can tell you who put the "ad" in radio.

Going to school is what the average child is not crazy about.

Lost time is never made up, but most of us have plenty of it left.

We don't know how many people read these paragraphs each week.

Most men work hardest to please little people who say "dad" so pleasantly.

Money is not only the source of much evil, but it is also the cause of most worry.

It's about time for some of the ladies to go to church again. The new fall hats are out.

The best thing you can do for West Liberty is to see that you do nothing against it.

Don't believe everything you hear, even if you are a talker of some proportions yourself.

Candidates may be divided into two classes: successful ones and ones who get doublecrossed.

Farmers get advice from all sources, but as far as we can tell, they seldom take it seriously.

The man who has a pocketbook full of bills can usually have the lions share of the conversation.

The world doesn't need an international language as much as it needs an international good will.

Some people are so ignorant that they think a foreign policy has something to do with insurance.

When a man has just lots of work to do, it is funny how many people stop to tell him the latest jokes.

It certainly would be fine if some of these canned products would taste like the advertisements claim.

Every man has a few pet schemes that will be worth millions, he thinks—if properly sold to somebody else.

Most of this talk about city men and country men is bunk; trace us back a few generations and we are all countrymen.

What has become of the old-fashioned parent who used to see to it that the children studied the Sunday School lessons regularly?

If every man had as much money as he thinks he is worth, with a special discount for cash, the price of humanity would go up.

When you say good things about people, you might as well say them to their faces. There is already enough behind-the back talk.

The average young thing thinks that the college of her choice is very fortunate in having so much beauty in one of its dormitories.

In the midst of all the wealth that is reputed to be in the good old U. S. A., we find the acquisition of even a slight amount a task indeed.

Insects cause untold loss to farmers every year, but no one has ever been able to figure out the damage done by the free summer boarders.

We never have been able to understand the man who tells us all about the state of his health when we merely asked, "How are you today?"

Adult leadership for youth is necessary if we expect young people to improve. How do the adults of West Liberty help our young people?

Merchants who want people to buy ought to tell them why. The cheapest, quickest and most effective way is by advertising in the Courier.

Cave-In Buries Three

Hamburg, Ia.—Three small boys were buried alive when the side of an old, deep gully they were playing in caved in. A fourth child, Carl Mullen, 3, escaped uninjured, returned home and, a few hours later when questioned about the whereabouts of the other boys, told of the tragedy. The victims were Olin Mullen, 7, brother of Carl, and Robert Briggs, 6, and John Stewart Briggs, 9, only children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Briggs.

HANEY

Henry W. Haney, a native of Morgan County, died after a very brief illness at his home in Belton, Texas, last week.

Mr. Haney had been back here about five years ago on a visit. He had lived in Texas many years.

TRIP TO CANADA

Cannel City, Ky.—Wellington Patrick of Lexington, P. M. Benton of Batavia, Ohio, and myself, have just recently returned from a short tour over into Canada, Niagara Falls, and other points of interest, motoring through with our good friend and relative, Mr. Patrick. The first point of interest that we arrived at was Dearborn, Michigan. The birth place of the Model T Ford. On arriving we immediately went to the Ford Rotunda, from which we were soon on our way to the Ford plant. Which was about a fifteen minute drive. After entering the plant, we were escorted by two guards going through which took two hours. We followed the machinery from start to finish, as it gradually moved along, all machinery and the working men were just like clock works. We watched the machinery as it started the car until the finishing touch went on and the car shoved out into the waiting room. This part was very interesting. We then were taken back to the Rotunda and were circled around by a Ford driver, showing us the materials used on highways from different countries. We then went into the Museum of the Ford plant, which was delightful to see, as nearly everything from different parts is on exhibition.

The magnificence of this building cannot be described with pen. After viewing this wonderful building, and its contents, we then had to pass on and went from their to Greenfield Village, which comprised about 200 acres, and in this enclosure we too found many, many things of interest. Time didn't permit us to see everything, that was in this enclosure. A few things we might mention, were: the birthplace of the Wright Brothers, also Wright Brothers' Cycle Shop, Luther Burbank's birthplace, Edison homestead, Noah Webster house, Waterford General Store, Logan County Courthouse and many other things too numerous to mention. We then had to leave and go on our way to Ontario, and to the Falls. Going up to Port Huron, we there crossed the St. Clair River, which connects Lake Erie and Lake Huron, into Canada. After arriving on Canadian soil and going through an interview as to who we were, where we were born, and where we were going and how long we expected to remain on that side, we were permitted to pass on. We shortly arrived at the Falls, which is very interesting to those who had never seen them before.

After motoring around and viewing the falls from all angles, we crossed into New York and soon on our way back from whence we started. To a land that flows with milk and honey. Coming through Buffalo, sketching through a part of Pennsylvania and into Ohio. Come through Columbus, then to Youngstown where we rested for the night with relatives. We soon then entered the home of P. M. Benton of Batavia, picked up Mrs. J. W. Benton, who had gone with us to that point and right away we arrived into Cannel City fine and dandy without even a tire puncture, or any trouble at all.

FARMERS' COLUMN

KENTUCKY FARM NEWS

A cannery established at Cloverport to give farmers an extra crop and to provide work for local persons received 41 tons of tomatoes in one day, according to County Agent Will B. Ray. A large number of farmers in Breckinridge and adjoining counties grew tomatoes on a commercial scale this year.

Grayson county poultry raisers held a county-wide meeting at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Probus who sell about $1,600 worth of poultry products a year. One hatchery paid $9,000 in one season for eggs from Grayson county tested flocks, giving a premium for high quality.

Two hundred and fifty older farm boys, members of Utopia clubs are growing hybrid corn in 22 Kentucky counties, and several hundred 4-H club members are growing improved varieties of potatoes. Exhibits of corn and potatoes were made at the State Fair.

A litter of eight pigs which weighed 132½ pounds when 3½ months old returned Leonard Rush of Metcalfe county $1 a bushel for the grain fed. Clover and Lespedeza pasture reduced the cost of gains. Corn, wheat and tankage were fed.

In a variety test at the St. Joseph Orphanage in Campbell county, Irish Cobble potatoes produced 262 bushels to the acre compared to 188 bushels for Warbus. Rye and vetch were turned under, 500 pounds of fertilizer were used per acre, and certified seed planted.

More than 100 Lincoln county farmers will use tobacco presses this season. A simple hand press is made from plans furnished by County Agent John R. Killinger. Many farmers will press tobacco for the first time.

ABUSED FEET

No one is in tip-top working condition when his feet hurt. Aching feet bring on fatigue, irritability, and general nervous strain. After all, most people use their feet harder and more constantly than their heads, anyway—so why not have the equivalent of a facial for the feet once in a while?

It pays to pamper the feet, preferably before they get in such a bad state that nothing will help, not even constant attention. A mild box solution used several times a week toughens the feet. Carefully trim house slippers should be worn as much as possible, not just an old pair of run-down shoes that should be discarded. The toe nails should be trimmed weekly, finishing them off with a nail file or emery board. If this is done, then rough edges won't be left to start runs in hose.

It is well to remember that nothing thrives without air, and this includes the feet.

As a final point, and perhaps the main one, wear shoes that are stylish. This merely means shoes that have good lines and are comfortable. It is the ultimate in style to wear shoes that really fit the feet. Extremes of fashion should be avoided.

BURLEY TOBACCO PRICES

The size of the crop is the most important single factor in burley tobacco prices, says the fiftieth annual report of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station. The quality of the crop is of next importance, and the amount of tobacco in storage the third most important factor affecting price. Allowance, of course, must be made for the general level of all commodity prices. The consumption of burley tobacco has been increasing at the rate of about three and a third million pounds a year.

WOMEN'S FALL HATS

Women's hats may look like inverted saucers, assortments of knife-points and other kitchen paraphernalia to the men, but to women they look particularly styled this fall. This is the opinion of Miss Iris S. Davenport, clothing specialist for the Kentucky College of Agriculture. She urges that to be well-dressed it is necessary to study the buyer's personality and buy for that, instead of just taking at random something everyone is wearing. Miss Davenport declares: "This fall and winter, since styles in hats are accented, they must be chosen with special care. Women must study themselves to find out their good points that they want to emphasize with their hats, get the style they need in mind—and then stick to it through thick and thin and the salesgirl's persuasions."

STATE FAIR ENTRIES

Sam D. Cecil has a large display of his farm products in the State Fair this week. His display will certainly be a credit to Eastern Kentucky. Nora Frances Cecil, daughter of Sam D. Cecil, has on display several entries in the 4-H Club department. Oak Hill 4-H Club of this county will represent the county in the State 4-H Club judging contest this week.

Dairy Program

All farmers of Morgan County who are interested in milk cows and dairying are cordially invited to attend the annual Dairy Day Program to be held at the Mt. Sterling Fair Grounds next Monday, September 19th. This program is sponsored by the Mt. Sterling Rotary Club and various dairy interests centering around Mt. Sterling along with the Carnation Company. Farm families are invited to attend and bring basket dinner. However, there will be lunch sold on the grounds.

With KENTUCKY Editors

Danville Advocate says the best angle from which to approach a problem is the "try" angle.

Eight per cent of the men are named John and seven per cent William; about 50 per cent are named Dennis after they marry.—Elizabeth-town News.

A tragic accident occurred Sunday morning when an automobile driven by Bobbie Brewer on highway 15, about two miles west of Campton, left the road and overturned. Lonnie Baker, who was riding in the front, was killed instantly. He sustained a broken neck, broken leg and arm and crushed chest.—Wolfe County Herald.

Ken Maynard, who flashes across the silver screen in the movies at break-neck speed on a western Mustang, found the going not so good when he sped through Jenkins in an automobile last Saturday.

The movie cowboy was arrested by policeman McCloud of Jenkins and was charged with speeding and reckless driving.—Pike County News.

About eight months ago I asked Dave Dorton, cashier of the Second National Bank, for the loan of a dollar when we were returning together in my car from Louisville. Dave was so slow in handing it over that I asked why the delay. "Well," he well-ed, "I have to take up the question of doubtful loans with the committee." Last week I was called into the office of "King" Dave and there I faced him, the president of the bank, J. B. Wells and chairman of the Board, Fred Howes. "Well," said Mr. Howes, "the bank has decided to loan you that dollar." (Aside: Dave had already let me have it and I had paid it nearly all back. But everything has to go through certain specified routine, I understand.)—Paintsville Herald.

WASHINGTON NOTES

BUSINESS

Improvement in business conditions seems certain in view of low income and larger outlays by the Government. Unless war intervenes, most business prophets expect a year or two of "recovery."

DEVALUATION

The President is expected to resist all pressure for currency devaluation. While international conditions tend to strengthen the dollar and depress foreign currencies, the vast stabilization funds are expected to curb any speculation and prevent a run-away situation.

NEW AIR BASES

Many Americans do not realize that the route across the Pacific Ocean by way of Alaska and the Aleutians Islands is 1,400 miles shorter than by way of Hawaii. This explains the interest that the Army and Navy is taking in the establishment of air bases in Alaska. The Navy has established a permanent seaplane base at Sitka, and wants a base at Kodiak Island. The Army high command, it is said, will request funds for the establishment of an Army Air base at Fairbanks, Juneau or Gustafson's Point.

LOWER RATES

Chairman Marvin Jones, of the House Agriculture Committee, is seeking lower freight rates on farm products moving to the sea for export. Mr. Jones points out that industry has received reduced freight rates on exports for years and finds no reason why the farmer should not get the same thing. He points out that the freight rate on a plow shipped from Illinois to Texas for export is about half the rate for a plow shipped over the same route for sale in Texas. Steel shipped from Pittsburgh for New York City moves for about one-third less than shipped to the same port for use in this country. Mr. Jones thinks that the farmers should be given the same advantage in an effort to procure foreign markets for their wheat, cotton and other products.

The Social Security Board is scheduled to report to its Advisory Council in about a week on the problem of extending old-age insurance to 16,000,000 farmhands, domestic servants and other wage-earners not now covered. It has been studying the problem for several months.

4,000,000 A DAY

An average daily disability of more than four million people and an annual cost of $10,000,000,000 due to illness and death is revealed by a national survey recently made by the Public Health Service. The survey was made during the winter of 1935-36 and is based upon interviews at nearly 3,000,000 homes. Among white workers, 15 to 64 years of age, the proportion disabled by illness on the day of the canvass was, per 1,000, unemployed, 39.5; employed, 19.5; seeking work, 43; and on work relief, 30. In general the highest illness rate was found among people in the high-age group, the low income classes and the unskilled.

MUST CEASE

Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, who has differed with the Administration on major fiscal policies, recently declared that "excessive Federal spending must cease." While agreeing that the hungry and starving must be taken care of, the Mississippi Senator said, "There are thousands on the WPA rolls that have no business there."

WORK

A definite improvement in the employment situation was recorded in July, according to Secretary Perkins, who reports that about 40,000 transient workers returned to employment.

POPE

Senator Pope, of Idaho, who was defeated for the Democratic Senatorial nomination in his Party's primary, has announced that he will not enter the general election.

REGIONAL OFFICERS

The Bureau of Internal Revenue has established thirteen regional offices throughout the country to expediate the determination of unjust enrichment tax liabilities and to facilitate settlement of taxpayers' claims for refunds of processing and floor taxes. The "unjust enrichment tax" is sometimes referred to as the "windfall" tax. It was designed after the Supreme Court threw out the processing taxes of the AAA and is intended to recoup taxes which were paid by numerous business firms and consumers but which were not subsequently paid to the Government by those who collected them in the process of business.

EASTERN STAR OFFICERS

At its regular meeting on Friday night of last week the local chapter of the Eastern Star elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Mrs. J. L. Blair, Worthy Matron; Yandall Wrather, Worthy Patron; Mrs. Jas. Franklin, Associate Matron; Rev. Harlen Murphy, Associate Patron; Mrs. Yandall Wrather, Secretary; Mrs. Sherman Lewis, Treasurer; Mrs. S. S. Franklin, Conductress; and Mrs. Mary E. Lykins, Associate Conductress. The installation of officers will be Friday night, September 16. All members are urged to be present. MAUDE PERRY, Sect.

The outlook for the team looks good as the boys are good players and most of them are the champions of 1937. Mr. Burton has scheduled a football game with Cannel City High School, Friday afternoon and Salyersville High School on Saturday afternoon. The coach is assured that we will win.

Basketball practice begins Monday, September 12. We hope to have a good team during 1938-39.

CHAPEL PROGRAM

The regular chapel program was given last Friday morning and was presented by Rev. and Mrs. Hycoup of Wrigley. Mrs. Hycoup played and sang special songs which were very beautiful.

EXTRA-INSTRUCTIONAL ACTIVITIES

No profession is measured by so many yardsticks as that of teaching. Every person who enters a school-room or contacts a teacher otherwise has a different reason why that teacher is a success or a failure. The instructional activities of the classroom is the big job of the teacher and it naturally follows that the achievements of the pupils should be the big thing in judging the teacher. But since many of the important achievements tend to be so intangible, a teacher is more often judged by the activities that are observable.

It is impossible to separate the instructional activities of the teacher from those that, for the want of a better term, are designated as extra-instructional. For the purpose of this discussion, the latter group will include such activities as securing appropriate classroom conditions, dealing with disciplinary cases, directing extra-curricular activities, and securing the co-operation of the parents of the community.

1. WHAT CLASSROOM CONDITIONS AFFORD THE MAXIMUM FACILITIES TO LEARNING, AND HOW MAY THE TEACHER SECURE THEM?

Most of our teachers are handicapped by the character of the building to which they have been assigned, but by breaking away from the old formal way of seating according to size and sex, much can be done to improve the lighting, heating and ventilation of our one room rural schools. Shades should be completely raised, except when the direct rays of the sun would shine on some pupils work or into his eyes; and no obstructions, such as flower pots or other alleged decorations should ever be placed in the windows.

The general tidiness of the classroom influences the learning activities of the pupils in subtle ways. The teacher should make the pupils responsible for keeping the school room clean. Probably the best plan is to appoint a small committee to which the responsibility is assigned for a definite period. Any teacher secure interesting pictures and maps. These should be changed from time to time; too many pictures and posters give a cluttered-up effect.

Teaching in general should not be routinized, but there are certain auxiliary activities that should be reduced to an economical routine. There should be definite procedure in passing in and out of the school-room, passing to and from the blackboard, getting drinks, disposing of waste-paper. Confusion caused by getting drinks and pupils leaving the room can be eliminated by requiring the pupils to use the last five or ten minutes of each play period for such.

2. HOW SHOULD THE TEACHER DEAL WITH DISCIPLINARY OFFENSES? The principal criterion by which order in the classroom is to be judged is the degree of courtesy which the behavior of the pupils reflects. If they are courteous toward each other and toward the teacher, and if courteous behavior prevails, the order may be said to be good.

At no time should the rule of good manners be violated. Under no circumstances should the pupil be allowed to call the teacher by his or her first name. The development of courteous behavior is good discipline.

In dealing with pupils who have committed disciplinary offenses punishment should not be administered to "get even" with the child, but the penalty should be the natural consequence of the offense.

3. WHAT ARE THE RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE TEACHER WITH REFERENCE TO EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES? For the one-room or two-room rural school such activities must of necessity be limited. There may be occasional school parties, a picnic, and programs to which the community may or may not be invited. Every school should have entries in the athletic contests at the County Fair. (One school is planning a fair all their own, leading up to the County Fair.) A nature-study unit or any other unit study will stimulate interest in school work. Keeping the child interested and happy is the worthy objective of this phase of the school program.

4. HOW CAN THE TEACHER SECURE THE COOPERATION OF THE COMMUNITY? If the teacher can make the classroom work so interesting that the children will carry the enthusiasm of the classroom into the home; the teacher's biggest problem is solved. Few parents, whose children have their whole heart and soul in their school work are going to over-look an invitation to visit that school. A P. T. A. will solve many problems for the teacher as well as for the community.

The school can exist without the cooperation of the community but what teacher or what community would want such a school?

STRAIGHT CREEK SCHOOL NEWS

Miss Letterman, Missionary worker, visited our school Wednesday. She told us many interesting stories "Fishers of Men" etc., played and sang several beautiful songs and assigned us some Biblical work to do and left us several good books to read.

We are planning to enter the Morgan County Fair. Come on all you boys and girls and let's get acquainted! Let's make this the most interesting fair Morgan County has ever had.

We had a clean up day last Friday. Several of the young boys and girls and parents brought hoes, sythes and rakes and cut and raked out the weeds. We had quite a bit of competition with wasps, yellow jackets and hornets, but never-the-less, we have our play ground looking much better. We wish to thank every one who helped us.

We have gotten several new seats and we certainly thank Mrs. Adkins, Miss Shaver and Mr. Haney for getting them for us. We have several new posters and bulletins and a good collection of house flowers.

The health nurse and Mr. Pelfrey and Miss Salyer visited our school the last three weeks and vaccinated for typhoid and diphtheria. We hope they will come again.

We are planning to go on a picnic Friday, September 2, take lunch and play games and run races. Boon's against Penn's. We are also planning to go to Frankfort, Lexington, etc., some time soon. We think it would be very interesting and very educational since we have never been there.

We have had several visitors and we invite them to come many more times.

We are going to have a box supper sometime soon. We will let you know in plenty of time to get your box and pocket book ready. Watch the Courier!

Written by Straight Creek School. Teachers are: Daisy Shaver, Ella F. Adkins.

ZONE TOURNAMENTS

The annual zone tournaments for the athletic events will be held on Friday, September 30, at Crockett, Wrigley, West Liberty and Cannel City. The winners in the softball games may enter the finals at West Liberty on fair day October 7. The winner and runner up in all other events at the zone tournaments may enter the finals.

In all of the track events each school may have no more than two entries.

Each school should enter one of the four zone meets in some event. Choose the place nearest and most convenient to your school and notify Elmer Craft at Wrigley, Boyd Cecil at Crockett, J. Wendell Nickell at Cannel City or D. C. Burton at West Liberty.

The horseshoes to be pitched are the regulation pitching shoes. The distance will be 30 feet.

WILLIAMS CREEK SCHOOL NEWS

Our enrollment this year is forty-one—eighteen boys and twenty-three girls. We have had good attendance most all time. There were several absent last week with sore arms, but we hope that they will be able to come back this week.

We were glad to have the county health nurse and doctor to visit our school. We feel that they are a great help to the schools of Morgan County.

We wish to thank Mr. Haney and the board members for having our well drilled so that we would have water to drink.

We have oiled the floor and put up pictures and maps in our school room.

We are going to have a pie supper the 24th of September, Saturday night. Everybody come. The proceeds will go for the benefit of the school. HANNAH MAXEY, Teacher.

EZEL BRICK PROJECT

The brick making project at Ezel was selected by Herman B. Hubbard, NYA District Supervisor as being the outstanding project for the month of August in his report to Robert K. Salyers, State Director.

Mr. Hubbard said, in his report, "We are anticipating a need for 200,000 brick which will be used in constructing a school building at that point. The project is being supervised by an NYA Supervisor and a man skilled in the art of brickmaking. The brick are being made on a plot of land near the village of Ezel, the land being owned by Dillard Murphy and his wife. This tract of land has been leased and duly signed and acknowledged by Dillard Murphy and his wife."

This project is of considerable value to the community now since it is converting old useless clay into fine quality of building material, which material will be assembled sooner or later into a school building. The building when completed will not only serve the youth of today, will serve the youth of tomorrow and throughout the ages will be a structure for humanity in the art of learning.

It is only reasonable to believe that the structure of this building will be a monument to the NYA principles, ideals and accomplishments, which will be perpetual.

"Youth are receiving special training in the art of brickmaking, which is somewhat of a lost art."

"This trade is especially appropriate for youth of rural vicinities in the mountains where the soil is suitable. Again it is a trade when it is over-run and is somewhat of a numerative and a profitable one that can be used by the individual in earning a livelihood."

The installation of the equipment for such a project can be made largely by hand and is not very expensive there, it is in the reach of the average youth of NYA standing. The income received by these workers is only a fractional part of the value in the form of knowledge and skilled work training."
